In the catering area, time out tables and on stage chairs were used. The turtle club lounge chairs (top right) complete the ensemble.

The Ex Officine Minganti is an old converted industrial complex. It now houses a shopping center, several restaurants and a fitness center. The aim of the reconstruction project was to create a connecting point in the city between the center of Bologna and the trade fair grounds. Important features include the shops and the leisure time facilities as well as a covered piazza which is increasingly becoming a popular meeting point.
